The PDT DrV™ Composite Instruments

The PDT DrV™ 1-2 Composite allows both tips to be used for shaping occlusal anatomy in the composite, with the 2-end having a conical shape that can also be used to create the facial anatomy of the upper central incisors.

The PDT DrV™ 3-4 Composite features wide, and thin, hatchet and hoe blades for applying and compacting composite, excellent for broad surfaces.

The PDT DrV™ 5-6 Composite is used for packing composite. The 5 end is appropriate for even the smallest cavities. The 6 end can be used to shape lingual anatomy of incisors and also to finish packing/smoothing composite surface in posterior teeth prior to occlusal modeling.

The PDT DrV™ 7-8 Composite features a thin and flexible blade with an offset angle to provide better ergonomics for your wrist. Ideal for delicate composite placement in any critical location, including interproximally and sculpting under margins.
